Netas under radar of Media Cell at DC Office

Mysuru, Mar.14 (MTY&BCT)- A 'Media Cell' or 'Media Centre' has been set up in city to monitor media publicity indulged by political parties in the run up to the Lok Sabha polls and to report if there are any violations in the Model Code of Conduct. The Cell has been set up at the Office of the Assistant Commissioner in the premise of DC's Office at the Court Hall and it is based on the guidelines issued by the Election Commission of India (ECI) that has asked all District Election Officers to constitute Media Certification and Monitoring Committee (MCMC) to monitor poll publicity, advertisement money spent by candidates and paid news.

"Leadership 4.0 is about surviving and thriving in a volatile, uncertain and non-linear world. Economic activity in the world is growing exponentially with the world GDP poised to touch 100 trillion dollars. Corporates need reflection time and dedicated attention to developing high potential leaders who can navigate and create value in the changing world. The core philosophy behind Leadership 4.0 is that businesses do not compete, business leaders do."

"His ideas and discoveries will be invaluable for leaders throughout the world who are committed to authenticity in their leadership" Bill George, Professor, Harvard Business School.

Gross Happiness Product

The acronym GDP for Gross Domestic Product is more commonly featured in public domain nowadays than in times past. A publication of International Monetary Fund (IMF) states that GDP measures the monetary value of final goods and services – that are bought by the final user – produced in a country in a given period of time, often a quarter or a year. The OECD (Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development), an inter-governmental institution, defines GDP as "an aggregate measure of production equal to the sum of the gross values added of all residents and institutional units engaged in production (plus taxes and minus any subsidies, on products not included in the value of their outputs). The modern concept of GDP was first developed by economist Simon Kuznets (1901-1985) for a US Congress report in 1934, warning against its use as a measure of welfare. After the Bretton Woods Conference in 1944 (United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference) held in New Hampshire, United States, GDP became the main tool for rating a country's economic health, but not necessarily the status of health and, therefore, happiness of the people at large, the sum of that phenomenon to be Gross Happiness Product (GHP) or Gross National Happiness Index (GNHI).

The debate on happiness felt by the country's population collectively can be a fascinating pursuit when GNHI is distinguishable from GDP by valuing collective happiness as the goal of governance. Unarguably, Gross National Happiness is more important the Gross Domestic Product and has its pivotal role in changing the world.

Global rating agencies have currently accorded the prestigious rank to India as the world's third biggest economy based on GDP. No such rating having been done so far in respect of gross happiness for the world's nearly 200 countries, one is obliged to take a look at the state of happiness felt by the land's masses. The topic acquires more meaning by segregating the land's population into the different familiar socio-economic categories, age groups, faiths followed and geographical regions. One such study conducted by researchers at the University of Washington in the US, the finding published in the prestigious journal The Lancet Public Health, has brought out that people of India experience health problems associated with ageing at an early stage than their counterparts in many other countries, thus bringing down the level of happiness.

A luminary's prescription for happiness goes like this: Eat sumptuously to be happy for a while; drink the heady stuff to be happy for a little while longer; take to gardening for lasting happiness. The choice in selecting the means to be happy, in all age groups, decides the level of happiness, both individually and nationally.

FOODLESS AT THE FEAST: May be marriages are made in heaven but the feast connected with the mega event is laid out on the terra firma. Most of those invited are not much concerned with the rituals that go on but look forward eagerly to the call from the dining hall. The moment the gentleman, invariably from the bride's side, announces that the food is ready — or 'ele haakide' (in Kannada) — everyone's face is lit up and all dash to the gourmet arena. It is the action replay at every wedding, big, fat or otherwise. In Kodagu where we had gone for the wedding of a colleague, the muhurat of the Kodava wedding was set in the night. At around 9 pm everyone was called in for the feast. I too stepped into the dining hall only to find that it was a pure non-vegetarian spread. I was a persona non grata there as I had not graduated beyond eggs. There was nothing on the platter that I could lay my hands on. While my colleagues relished the hot Kodava dinner, I had a glass of water to fill the stomach. Till today my colleague doesn't know of my ordeal on her wedding day. It is a closely guarded secret. — H.N. Ananda in Deccan Herald

Tiger statue scares Police officer

Virginia: A discarded statue of a tiger has given a moment of shock to a Police Officer on duty.

Police in Virginia said an apparent loose tiger that caused a "moment of shock" for an officer turned out to be a realistic statue.

The photoes posted in social media looked like a tiger lurking and ready to attack. "While on proactive patrol in a county shopping center, one of our officers experienced a moment of...uh...shock before realising this little guy was harmless," the post said.

As the hilarious case of mistaken identity went viral, the Police Department are asking business owners to be more careful while disposing of animal statues. They have asked business establiment to put up a caution board.

World's largest snow maze

Manitoba: A snow maze measuring more than 30,000 square feet at Manitoba in Canada has been declared the world's largest by the Guinness World Records.

The snow puzzle at A Maze in Corn, located near St. Adolphe, was officially recognised by Guinness World Records on Monday.

It said the 30,021 square-foot, 110 square-inch maze beat the previous record of 18,255 square feet, 7 square inches, set by a maze at Fort William Historical Park in Thunder Bay, Ontario.

Business owner Clint Masse said, "It feels good like when people ask, we can actually say Guinness says we're the biggest. We are, in fact, the biggest."

Masse said constructing the snow maze, which the business attempted for the first time years after autumn corn mazes, required about 300 truckloads of snow and 4,265 feet of tightly-packed snow walls.

Does washing clothes destroy harmful bacteria?

Washing doesn't destroy bacteria, but drying does. Bacteria and viruses survive the washing cycle, but after at least 28 minutes in the dryer, pathogens are destroyed. Germs from one item in a load of laundry are able to spread to 90% of the laundry in the washing machine.

VOICE OF THE READER

Mysuru has a 'Heart'

Sir,

The other night while my husband and I were on the Ring Road, we had a flat tyre. It was brought to our notice by a youngster who was returning home from work. He was kind enough, seeing the plight of the 'oldies' perhaps, to go to a couple of puncture repair shops, but being late, they were shut.

To add to our woes, there were no street lights in the vicinity. He kept reassuring us that the problem would be set right. He then volunteered to change the tyre but to our dismay, the 'jack' was missing ! Promptly, he phoned his friends who arrived and put us back on the road; brushing aside our gratitude, with a shrug.

Mysuru may have lost its prime place as the Cleanest City, but it still has its HEART in the right place. In spite of all the bungling that is done by the people at the helm, Mysuru has its priorities right. Our youngsters are our hope — India's hope, and we are blessed to be in Mysuru.

Apathy of garbage collectors

Sir,

I was shocked and astonished when the garbage collectors threw the garbage in adjacent vacant site. A few used items and dry waste from home was collected and kept for clearance. The reason quoted was that the quantity was more and there was no space in their vehicle.

In spite of requesting not to throw, they picked it up and threw among the dry bushes and said 'Nothing will happen, your waste is disposed so don't worry.' Alas, we are a long way to be a 'Clean City' and a very long way to be really 'Swachh Bharat.'

Tourism Minister wants City Rly. Station

Development stopped after 60% works done !

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh seen with SWR Mysuru Division DRM Aparna Garg and an official.

Mysuru, Mar. 14 (RK&NNN)- Even as almost 60 per cent of the Rs.15 crore re-development work at the City Railway Station has been completed under the Central Government fund, the State Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, who visited the spot on Mar.11, asked the Railway authorities to stop the work immediately claiming that they were affecting the heritage structure.

Since the project comes under Central Government, the workers did not heed to his call and continued with the works. This irked the Minister, who then complained to Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar as he is the Head of the Heritage Committee.

On hearing about the Tourism Minster's complaint, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, who had launched the re-development works in January this year, said that the much-needed City Railway Station re-development works such as widening of approach road and entrance to the Station which will reduce traffic congestion; Shifting of reservation counter and replacing of Mangalore tiles in the shed area will continue in spite of the Minister's complaint.

Meanwhile, the Railway authorities told Star of Mysore that the work was not stopped and continued as planned and would be completed as per schedule.

It may be recalled, Mysuru is one of the 68 Railway Stations that has been chosen to be re-developed. While facades of the Stations have been changed and almost 90 percent of the work has been completed, Mysuru is lagging behind with 60 percent works as it is a heritage structure and permission had to be taken to proceed with the works.

H.D. Deve Gowda hands over Hassan bastion to grandson

Deve Gowda, Revanna, Bhavani, Prajwal and relative MLA Balakrishna cry in unison

Hassan, Mar.14 (UNI)- Former Prime Minister and Janata Dal-Secular (JD-S) National President H.D. Deve Gowda yesterday broke down at a rally in Hassan district taking exception to the accusations against him of only promoting his family.

He broke down as he officially announced the candidature of his grandson Prajwal Revanna from Hassan, the constituency he nurtured since 1953. He first became a member of the Karnataka Legislative Assembly in 1962.

Kick-starting Prajwal's campaign from Moodalahippe in Holenarasipura, Hassan district, Gowda fought hard to hold back tears as he remembered his early days in politics and announced that he was vacating the seat forever. He said that from now on, Prajwal will continue to nurture the seat.

The emotion spilled over with Prajwal, his father and PWD Minister H.D. Revanna, mother Bhavani Revanna and family relative Channarayapatna MLA Balakrishna also breaking down. Revanna even asked Gowda to consider contesting from Hassan again, but the JD(S) patriarch refused saying his age does not allow him to be active in politics.

Deve Gowda's two grandchildren Nikhil Kumaraswamy, son of Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, and Prajwal Revanna, son of Revanna, will contest in the upcoming general elections.

While Gowda vacated his Hassan seat for Prajwal, Nikhil will contest from neighbouring Mandya. Both seats are strongholds of the party, located in the heart of the Vokkaliga dominated Old Mysuru region.

Gowda said that he had promoted many leaders and yet he was being criticised for promoting Nikhil and Prajwal. "It should be decided. It should be decided [breaks down]... So many accusations... The media keeps saying Deve Gowda, Revanna, Kumaraswamy and his grandchildren... [breaks down again]."

"With all your permissions and with the blessings of our MLAs and yours I have [left Hassan] for Prajwal... [Prajwal breaks down]," Deve Gowda said seeking support from the people of the district.

"But they don't understand the tribulations I'm subjected to," he stated, adding that some of his close associates ditched him when he needed them the most. "I've built the party and am able to protect it because of the love and affection of the people," he said.

Later, addressing a press conference in Holenarasipura, Deve Gowda said, he was deeply hurt by the campaign against Nikhil in Mandya. Nikhil is set to go up against Sumalatha Ambarish, wife of the late film star M.H. Ambarish, who was a three-time MP from the seat and was also a former Union Minister.

"In media there is speculation that if [Congress] leaves Tumakuru [from where the Congress won in 2014] then we have to give up Mandya. It has hurt me so much. They say 'Nikhil go back'. I will go to Mandya and then let them ask me to go back. In my 60 years of politics who have I fought for? I will put all of this before the people. For me, Hassan and Mandya are not different," Deve Gowda said.

Puja before rally

Prajwal's parents Revanna and Bhavani campaigned for their youngest son and offered puja at Chennakeshavaswamy Temple, Holenarasipura. Before the family visited the temple, Bhavani handed Prajwal milk in a silver cup.

Two transsexuals blessed the candidate, a rite that is considered auspicious. After the puja, Prajwal was taken in a procession by JD(S) workers through the village.

Crocodile tears: BJP

H.D. Deve Gowda H.D. Revanna Prajwal

The opposition Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) was quick to criticise Deve Gowda. "If crying was an art, Deve Gowda and his family would hold the record for mastering the 'Art Of Crying' to constantly fool people for decades. Matter of the fact is before elections Deve Gowda and his family cries. After elections people who vote this family cries," the party said in a tweet.

Dosti seat-sharing: 20 for Congress, 8 for JD(S)

Bengaluru, Mar 14 (UNI)- The Congress in Karnataka managed to secure 20 seats out of 28 to fight the coming Lok Sabha elections after several rounds of talks with the JD(S) leaders.

The JD(S) climbed down from its initial demand of 12 seats and settled for eight. Former Chief Minister and the Chairman of the JD(S)-Congress Co-ordination Committee, Siddharamaiah had reportedly gained an upper hand in the seat-sharing exercises with the JD(S).

Out of the total number 28 Lok Sabha seats, in Karnataka JD(S) will contest in as many as eight Lok Sabha constituencies, while the Congress to field its candidates in 20 seats. As per the seat-sharing arrangements, the coalition partner JD(S) will contest in Hassan, Mandya, Tumakuru, Shivamogga, Uttara Kannada, Chikkamagaluru, Vijayapura and Bengaluru North.

The seats the Congress will field its candidates are, Kolar, Chikkaballapura, Bengaluru South, Bengaluru Central, Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Dakshina Kannada, Chitradurga, Ballari, Belagavi, Chikkodi, Koppal, Davanagere, Dharwad, Bagalkot, Kalaburagi, Haveri and Bidar.

The final list for sharing of Lok Sabha seats were released after a meeting held between JD(S) leader Danish Ali with the AICC President Rahul Gandhi, at Kochi in Kerala yesterday.

The seat-sharing formula also gives JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda two options to contest, Bengaluru North or Tumakuru, after he conceded its bastions — Mandya and Hassan – to grandsons Nikhil Kumaraswamy and Prajwal Revanna.

The Congress also gave away BJP bastions Shivamogga and Uttara Kannada to the JD(S) and sacrificed Tumakuru, represented by S.P. Muddhanume Gowda. Incidentally, Muddhanume Gowda was with JD(S) till 2014 and joined Congress during the last general elections.

Mysuru will be the bone of contention

However it looks like the seat-sharing talks between coalition partners as the contentious seat of Mysuru could become a thorny issue between them with JD(S) leaders expressing unhappiness over not been given the seat. The JD(S) has been arguing that with two Ministers (G.T. Deve Gowda and S.R. Mahesh) from Mysuru, and their party State President hailing from here, they have a legitimate stake over this.

Some also argued that this is a "safe seat" for party Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda. Mysuru going the way of the Congress is seen as a victory of sorts for the former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, who was keen on retaining this seat. He wants C.H. Vijayshankar, former MP, to contest from here.

JD(S) State President A.H. Vishwanath said that the party had not given up on Mysuru seat, indicating that it would "bargain hard" with the Congress for the seat.

Astrologer Dwarakanath blesses HDK, Nikhil Kumaraswamy

Says nobody can stop Modi from being Prime Minister again

Bengaluru, Mar.14- Worried over his son's political debut in Mandya, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) consulted the astrologer Dwarakanath, who is popularly called as 'Raja Guru,' in political and social circles.

Kumaraswamy, along with his son, Nikhil Kumaraswamy, a budding actor, visited the residence of Dwarakanath, who is said to be close to Water Resources Minister D.K. Shivakumar, late on Tuesday night.

Dwarakanath is one of the well-known astrologers whom most politicians, irrespective of the party they belong to, seek blessings and take advice from before plunging into any political decisions.

Sources said that the consultation was about Nikhil's foray into electoral politics. He is tipped to contest from Mandya on a JD(S) ticket and is facing a tough fight in Sumalatha, wife of former Minister and actor late M.H. Ambarish.

Sumalatha is clandestinely supported by local Congress leaders besides Ambarish fans. Banking on the sympathy wave, Sumalatha, after being denied a Congress ticket, has decided to contest as an Independent.

It is said that Dwarakanath has predicted a change in the planetary position of Guru (Jupiter) after Mar.29 and it would help Nikhil. Speaking to media persons, Dwarakanath said that he has blessed Nikhil.

He also predicted that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will get elected for a second term and there is no individual leader who could stop him.

"I will bless anyone who comes to my abode. No one can stop Modi from becoming Prime Minister and forming the Central Government again," he said.

BJP - Pandavas and Congress - Kauravas: Kodi Mutt Seer

Kodi Mutt Seer Sri Shivayogi Rajendra Mahaswamiji too has predicted that Narendra Modi will become the Prime Minister for the second time. In a cryptic message to his followers, the Seer said at Abbethmakura Vishwaradhyara Jathra Mahotsava at Yadgir on Mar.12, "Truth will be bitter. Kuruvamsha Rajas will fight. Pandavas and Kauravas will fight. The gold-studded crown may stay and neem leaves may turn into jaggery."

Rajendra Mahaswamiji

Kodi Mutt Seer is known for his predictions and has a huge fan following in Karnataka. His latest prediction indicates that Modi will continue to rule India for the next five years and has compared Pandavas to BJP and Kauravas to the Mahaghatbandhan. His sayings on the crown will stay means that Modi will continue to hold the reins of power, say interpreters.

The Seer's prediction has also said that India will not face any threat from terrorist activities, say interpreters.

All incumbent MPs to get BJP tickets

Bengaluru, Mar.14 (UNI)- Eyeing 22 of the total 28 Lok Sabha seats in Karnataka, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has decided to field all its 16 incumbent MPs, including Pratap Simha, D.V. Sadananda Gowda and Shobha Karandlaje, in the State in the elections while the process of selection of candidates for the remaining 12 constituencies is in progress.

Announcing this at a press conference here yesterday, BJP State President B.S. Yeddyurappa said that the party's State unit's Core Committee would meet in Bengaluru on Friday to shortlist the probable candidates. He would visit New Delhi on Saturday to get clearance from the Central Election Committee for the first list of candidates with 20 to 22 names, he said.

Yeddyurappa indicated that Tejaswini Ananth Kumar, wife of the former Union Minister late H.N. Ananth Kumar, would be fielded from Bengaluru South that was represented by her husband. "Most probably, she will be the candidate for Bengaluru South. However, it is the Central leadership which would decide the issue," he said.

Refusing to comment on dynasty politics, Yeddyurappa, when asked again, said that there should be some limit to even family politics. He was indirectly referring to former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda's grandsons contesting polls from Hassan (Prajwal Revanna) and Mandya (Nikhil Kumaraswamy).

Yeddyurappa said the BJP was mainly banking on the performance of the Narendra Modi Government at the Centre and its own erstwhile Government in Karnataka besides the failures of the Coalition Government here to improve its poll performance in Karnataka.

Lashing out at the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government in Karnataka, he said that the Government had failed to respond to the problems of people, especially in drought-hit areas. He also maintained that people were fed up with the Coalition Government owing to lack of coordination among the allies.

Decoding Mythology

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Delusion of culture

We have a need to believe that a culture exists for a reason, that history has a direction, that every event has a meaning, and that every person has a value.

Whenever archaeologists uncover a site of human habitation, they invariably come upon artifacts and monuments that are neither simply utilitarian nor merely aesthetic. These include ritual objects and structures such as charms, talismans, sacrificial altars, temples and tombs. They make little sense to the outsider, but to the insider they are expressions of profound belief systems that help them grapple with the reality of life.

Rational explanations do not adequately justify the time and energy invested in Stone Age cave paintings, Bronze Age burial sites, prehistoric Venus figurines, Egyptian mummies, Aztec pyramids, Stonehenge, the Serpent Mound and native Australian rock art. The answer to their mystery and magnificence lies more often than not in myth.

Civilisation requires a state of delusion. We have a need to believe that a culture exists for a reason, that history has a direction, that every event has a meaning, and that every person has a value. Myth provides that delusion. The modern nationalist discourse is a case in point. Then comes a tornado or a flood or an earthquake, and all is naught. The flood drowns the kingdom and the republic. Nothing is spared when nature strikes. Both the pig and the priest burn when the earth spits out fire.

To cope with the reality, impersonality and ambivalence of nature, people turn to myth. Through myth-making, impersonal events have moral or ethical reasons and the faceless environment comes to have a personality. Nature becomes Mother Nature. A father comes to live in the sky. A demon brings disease and death. Somehow it is easier to cope with a mystery that has a face.

Nature is the ultimate reality, existing within and around us. We cannot escape nature. We are helpless. Before nature's awesome capacity to sustain and destroy us, we are reduced to a state of humbling and humiliating passivity. There are three ways to cope with the truism that is nature: fight, flee and freeze. Each way is valid. At least one is necessary to survive.

He who fights visualises nature as a force that can be manipulated, controlled or conquered (one can make things happen in one's favour). He who flees visualises nature as an enchanting delusion that draws humans away from the true scheme of things (one has to draw oneself away from the enchantment). He who freezes visualises nature as an impersonal force with a mind of its own (one simply has to go with the flow) or a force under the control of a superhuman entity (one has to pray or petition for events to happen in one's favour).

This visualisation is myth-making. No one knows if this process is conscious or unconscious. But it enables the sentient being to cope with life; it makes us human.

Scientists should work at reducing cost of farm production: Expert

Prof. S. Ayyappan, Chancellor, Central Agricultural University, Imphal, seen addressing at Central Sericultural Research and Training Institute here recently as Ashok Dalwai, CEO of National Rainfed Area Authority, K.M. Hanumantharayappa, Chairman, Central Silk Board and others look on.

Mysuru, Mar.14- Stressing on the need for scientists to work for reducing the cost of production for farmers, Ashok Dalwai, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of National Rainfed Area Authority (NRAA), said that Science and Technology should be applied to make lives egalitarian and sustainable.

He was speaking at the inauguration of the Sixth Asia Pacific Congress of Sericulture and Insect Biotechnology at Central Sericultural Research and Training Institute (CSR&TI) here that saw delegates from eight countries converge in the city recently.

Pointing out that the income of farmers has become a matter of concern across the world, with farmers unsure of their income even in countries like the US, Dalwai observed that Science and Technology should focus on reducing the cost of production while also maintaining high yield and ensuring a satisfactory income.

Noting that nearly 50 percent of the country's population depended on agriculture, he said that changes and improvisation in farming can lead to increased income and changes in the lifestyle of people dependent on farming.

Prof. S. Ayyappan, Chancellor, Central Agricultural University, Imphal, said that the scientific community should work towards increasing farmers' incomes. He also sought expertise from other countries in tackling issues faced by Sericulture farmers.

Ayyappan further said that the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI), Blockchain and Internet of Things (IoT) in Sericulture should be studied.

K.M. Hanumantharayappa, Chairman, Central Silk Board, spoke about the state of Sericulture in the country and the continued demand for silk, despite the entry of several other fabrics.

NCC cadets clean Kukkarahalli Lake

Mysuru, Mar.14 (KS)- Over 100 Cadets of NCC Mysuru carried out various activities at Kukkarahalli Lake here recently as part of Swachatha Abhiyan between 6.45 am and 9.30 am. They removed plastic and other wastes such as paper cups, plastic water bottles, wrappers etc., which were strewn around the Lake premises.

Later, Prof. S.L. Belagali, HoD, Environmental Science, University of Mysore, gave a talk on effects of pollution on our environment. He highlighted the need of keeping the surroundings clean and taking all measures to preserve the environment.

He said that a time may come soon where we are forced to carry oxygen cylinders just as we carry water bottles due to severe pollution.

The NCC cadets also created awareness among the public about the dangers of pollution on the environment and took out a march around the Lake carrying placards depicting effects of pollution and with a message to the general public to be aware.

University of Mysore Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar, who was the chief guest, said that the NCC had taken a good initiative to clean the Lake surroundings and lauded the efforts of NCC cadets and Col. M.K. Belliappa, Group Commander of NCC Mysore.

World Kidney Day Today

Kidney Health for Everyone, Everywhere

By Dr. K.G. Arun
Consultant Nephrologist, Narayana Multispecialty Hospital, Mysuru

World Kidney Day, observed every year on Mar. 14, is a global awareness campaign and the goal is to raise awareness of how important our kidneys are. All around the globe, people come together to raise awareness and educate others about this important cause. Everybody should be aware of the risk factors, how to prevent possible risks and how to live with renal failure.

Nearly 850 million* people worldwide are now suffering from kidney diseases from various causes. Chronic Kidney Diseases (CKD) cause at least 2.4 million deaths per year and is now the 6th fastest growing cause of death. The number of Indians suffering from chronic kidney ailments has doubled in the past 10 years with 17 in every hundred people suffering from some form of kidney diseases at present. Children as well as adults can be affected by kidney disease.

Key risk factors for CKD are diabetes and high blood pressure. In order to try to prevent diabetes and high blood pressure causing silent kidney problems, we suggest a systematic screening and prevention of risk factors in these patients.

As affected people need to be educated, so do the medical professionals. They have to be more aware of their important role in noticing and reducing the risk of potential CKD.

There is widespread kidney health disparity and inequity, despite the growing burden of kidney disease on global health. CKD and acute kidney injuries often take place because of the social conditions in which people are born, where they grow up, live, work and age. Lack of education, poverty, gender disparity, pollution and occupational hazards also influence the risk of kidney disease.

Kidney disease can progress by reducing most of the kidney functions before causing any symptoms. It is important to detect the disease in early stages, to be able to treat it in a suitable way. Thus, on this World Kidney Day, it is important to raise awareness about increasing incidence of kidney diseases and the need for strategies for kidney disease and management.

Kidneys are essential to our health because they get rid of excess water and toxins, regulate blood pressure, make red blood cells and also help keep bones strong.

If you have CKD, even if it's mild, you're at an increased risk of developing other serious problems, such as cardiovascular disease. This is a group of conditions affecting the heart and blood vessels, which includes heart attacks and strokes. Healthy lifestyle changes and medication can help reduce your risk of developing heart diseases.

Following are some tips to take care of kidney health:

- Keep yourself fit and active
- Control your blood sugar level and blood pressure
- Maintain your body weight
- Eat healthily, reduce salt, sugar and oil intake
- Keep your weight under check
- Ensure adequate fluid intake (at least 2 to 3 litres a day)
- Don't smoke
- Do not take over-the-counter pills on a regular basis
- Avoid medications like painkillers
- Get your kidney function tested regularly

Keep these tips in your mind and get yourself regularly tested to make sure your kidneys are healthy. If they are, your chances of a long, healthy and happy life will increase for sure!

Head of the Department of Nephrology Dr. Srinivasan, Consultant Urologist Dr. Kiran Kumar, Medical Director Dr. A. Venugopal, Facility Director A.R. Manjunath, Co-ordinator of Nataraja School of Nursing Dr. Rajesh and others were present.

JK Tyre opens 'JK Truck Wheels Centre' in Mulbagal

Mulbagal, Mar. 14 (UNI)- Tyre Industry giant and pioneer of radial technology, JK Tyre & Industries Ltd, that has a production unit in Mysuru, inaugurated an all-new state-of-the-art 'JK Truck Wheels Centre' and 'JK Xpress Wheels Centre' at Mulbagal in Karnataka.

Sanjeev Sharma, General Manager - Fleet Management, JK Tyre & Industries, inaugurated the Centre in presence of several dignitaries, including key company officials and dealers yesterday. The new centre comes up within three months of inaugurating a similar Truck Wheel Centre in Karnataka.

Spread over an area of 6,000 sq. ft., the JK Truck Wheels Centre is strategically located on the National Highway-75, connecting Bengaluru and Kolkata. The Centre will also serve as a key transit point for vehicles headed towards other prominent cities like Tirupati, Vijayawada, Visakhapatnam, and Bhubaneswar.

The JK Truck Wheels Centre offers end-to-end solutions for truck and bus tyre care. The Centre is equipped with high-quality machinery, such as best-in-class wheel aligner, Nitrogen inflator and pneumatic tools set.

In 2016, JK Tyre became the first Indian tyre manufacturer to sell 10 million Truck and Bus radial tyres in India.

JK Tyre has evolved as a 360-degree service solutions provider and is currently the No. 1 franchise network that provides tyre care solutions through its network of service centres spread across the country.

Journalism according to TJS George

Says Indira Gandhi responsible for "Dynastification of India"

Mysuru, Mar.14 (NNN) - Renowned Journalist and nonagenarian TJS George gave a perspective of the seven decades of Independent India, of which he has been a witness, by dividing the years into four distinct phases.

He was speaking at a special lecture titled 'English Language, Literature and Media', and an Interactive Session thereafter, organised by the Department of Collegiate Education, Government of Karnataka and Departments of English and Journalism, Maharani's Arts College for Women here this morning.

He said the first phase was the 1950s which was the Golden Age of India as it had people with great experience and there were writers like R.K. Narayan, Shivaram Karanth, actors like Dilip Kumar, Dev Anand, Nargis, Madhubala, singers like Lata Mangeshkar, scientists like Homi J. Bhaba and Abdul Kalam.

Then there was India's humiliation after the China War where Jawaharlal Nehru became disillusioned and died just two years after and then Lal Bahadur Shastri was the Prime Minister for a brief while and he died outside the country.

The third phase is what George (who himself coined the words) described as Dynastification of India. Calling Indira Gandhi, the then PM, as a very complex character who wanted to see herself as a great leader, thinker all because she was the daughter of Nehru and it was when she imposed the Emergency on June 25, 1975 that the 'Glorification of Dynastification' began and fear set in and leaders like Jayaprakash Narayan, Advani, Vajpayee, Ramakrishna Hegde were jailed a day before the Emergency was imposed, he said. It was the time when an uneducated, unelected leader Sanjay Gandhi, who ran riot, with every Indian being afraid of him. Even his own mother Indira Gandhi was getting scared of him, he added.

What is this 'Glorification of Dynastification'? It is the 'Family — Indira Gandhi, Sanjay Gandhi, Rajiv Gandhi, Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi' — and this process of Gandhis led to 'MeToo Movement of India' long back with every other leader following it, he said.

The MeToo Movement began in Karnataka too with Jharkiholis, Bellary Brothers and the best example is the Gowda family, with patriarch H.D. Deve Gowda, the ex-PM projecting grandson Prajwal Revanna as the future Prime Minister, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil Kumaraswamy as the natural future CM.

The fourth phase is Religion and Politics which is a very sensitive subject today, said George. Nobody chooses his or her religion, it is an accident by birth that makes you belong to a religion; it happens by chance that one belongs to Hindu, Christian, Muslim or other religions, he said.

"Dr. Ambedkar was different because he chose Buddhism. But most of us ordinary people stick to the religion we are born to. This creates a huge problem and probably this is where journalism comes in. If you have a label you are pre-judged. Unfortunately, I was born a Christian and hence in my writings they question my patriotism and nationalism. Religion uses God, but God has nothing to do with religion," said George.

He said that most of the religious leaders today have become businessmen. "I am not an atheist. But I stopped going to the church when I found the priest was a rascal. But my mother told me I must go to the church. It was faith which drove her to the church while it was reason which kept me away," he said.

Eulogising the Hindu religion's true aspects like Sanathana Dharma, he said, it is one of the most enlightened religions but in the current context it is Hindutva and not Hinduism that is gaining ground which is leading to all kinds of problems, he pointed out.

An interesting question and answer session followed with the students of the college posing very many interesting questions to all of which George answered in a measured and reasoned way.

The Principal of Maharani's Arts College for Women Prof. C. H. Prakash, Head of the Department of English Prof. Geetha Gangadharan, Head of the Department of Journalism Dr. S.G. Raghavendra, IQAC Co-ordinator Dr. N. Rathna and others were present.

Four TV screens have been set up at the Cell and it will have six more once the Election Notification is issued on Mar. 19 for the First Phase where Mysuru-Kodagu Parliamentary Constituency will vote. The MCMC will also have two supporting Cells – Media Monitoring Cell (MMC) and Monitoring Certification Cell (MCC).

The MCMC is headed by Additional Deputy Commissioner Anuradha, who is also Assistant Returning Officer and the Cell is run by Social Welfare Officer B.S. Neena. More staff will be appointed for 24/7 monitoring once the notification is issued.

Other members of the Cell include retired Information Department Officer B.S. Meenakshi, Head, Department of Studies Journalism and Mass Communication, University of Mysore Prof. Puttaswamy, Akashawani Programme Coordinator J.S. Shivaswamy and officers Srinivas and Shobha. Assistant Director of Information Department R. Raju will be the Member Secretary of MCMC while Information Department Assistant S.H. Nirmala will be the MCMC member.

Publicity under scanner

The task of the Media Cell is to watch all television channels, read all newspapers published in Mysuru, monitor social media platforms including candidates' Facebook, Twitter and What'sApp and record all the messages/ programmes and submit a report to Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, who is the District Election Officer, if there are any violations. The DC, in turn, will report the same to the Election Commission of India.

Once the notification is issued, the Media Cell will function 24/7 and in three shifts. All National and State TV channels and local TV channels will be watched and recorded.

Focus will be on channels that are owned by political parties for election publicity and if they are favouring a particular candidate.

Reporting violations

The Cell has the responsibility of screening all newspapers and the persons are supposed to read newspapers and cut the clippings in case of violation and report to the District Election Officer. Based on the Election Commission's directive, newspapers, TV channels and social media platforms will be continuously monitored so that the Model Code of Conduct is established. The Cell has to ensure that publicity mediums are not misused.

Monitoring officers must ensure that there should be no coverage of any election speeches or other material that incites violence, one religion against, another one caste against another one language group against another etc.

ECI curbs on social media draws flak

Mysuru, Mar. 14 (PM&SR)- Senior Advocate P.D. Medappa condemned the stringent guidelines issued by the Election Commission of India (ECI) on social media usage during this Lok Sabha polls.

Addressing a press conference at Patrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, he said that political parties and candidates will not be able to verify social media posts of defence personnel, hate speeches and fake news on their accounts.

The advocate said that as per guidelines, no political party or candidate must display photographs of defence personnel on social media for campaigning purpose. They must also not post any content that could vitiate the electoral process or disturb peace and public order.

He said these guidelines have also led to confusion among users of social media and curtailed freedom of speech and expression guaranteed by the Constitution of India according to Article 19(1)A.

Recently some newspapers and TV channels misunderstood the guidelines and misinterpreted that postings of individual opinion on political parties and candidates on social media attracts punishment, he said and added that people can post their opinion on social media except messages inciting violence.

He wanted the ECI to handle the social media strictly instead of restraining people in posting their views.

MP Pratap Simha seen addressing the media in city this morning as senior Advocate P.D. Medappa and BJP State Secretary M. Rajendra look on.

MP Pratap Simha said the ECI has clearly stated that all political advertisements on social media will require pre-certification from the Media Certification and Monitoring Committee (MCMC).

These advertisements will be a part of the poll expenditure of the party. Provisions of the Model Code of Conduct will also apply to the content being posted on social media by candidates and political parties. Any violation can lead to action by the Election Commission, the MP said.

Candidates are also required to furnish details of their social media accounts at the time of filing nominations, and their activities on Facebook, WhatsApp, Twitter, and Google would be under the Election Commission's close scrutiny but not for public to air their views, he added.

On the pre-poll pact between Congress and JD(S), Simha said that it tells both parties came to this understanding fearing defeat.

To a question on his ticket confirmation, Pratap Simha said that State BJP President B.S Yeddyurappa had already assured tickets to all sitting MPs including him.

"I will face the polls based on the development works implemented by me in the last five years in Mysuru-Kodagu Parliamentary Seat and Prime Minister Narendra Modi's image.

V. Sreenivasa Prasad from Ch.Nagar?

Mysuru, Mar.14 (PM&SR)- In a sudden political development, State BJP Vice-President and Dalit leader V. Sreenivasa Prasad expressed his willingness to contest on BJP ticket from Chamarajanagar Parliamentary Scheduled Caste Reserve Constituency.

Speaking to reporters after a large number of his supporters and fans met him at his Jayalakshmipuram here this morning, he said though he had announced his political retirement last year, he was being forced to contest from Chamarajanagar LS seat.

Kariyappa murder case

Six convicted

Mysuru, Mar. 14 (RK&BCT)- The Fifth Additional District Sessions Court this morning convicted all the six accused in the sensational murder of rowdy-sheeter Kariyappa. The murder took place in 2010 near Thonachikoppal (T.K. Layout) Bisilu Maramma Temple.

Kariappa of Paduvarahalli was murdered by assailants on 3.10.2010 and they came in a car to a house where Kariyappa was staying. Old gang rivalry is said to be the reason for the murder. Hearing the case, Judge G.G. Kuruvathi convicted Ashok, Hemanth, Manjesh, Praveen, Ramesh and Sooraj. The quantum of punishment will be pronounced tomorrow. The court acquitted Chandru, Swamy and Sunil as they were not involved in the murder. In all, 11 accused had been arrested and of them, Devu and Vijay died. The trial went on for more than eight months based on the chargesheet submitted by Saraswathipuram Police.

Tibetan National Uprising Day

Mysuru, Mar. 14 (KS) - As part of the 60th Tibetan Uprising Day, the Regional Tibetan Women's Association (RTWA) of Bylakuppe, Hunsur and Kollegal Tibetan Settlements took out a march in city on Tuesday to draw the attention of the concerned for protection of human rights of Tibetans in Tibet.

They took out a procession from Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple and reached the Deputy Commissioner's Office, where they staged a dharna.

They also lit earthen lamps to pay homage to martyrs who had sacrificed their lives for Tibet. President of RTWA of Bylakuppe Tashi Choedon, Hunsur RTWA President Tamding Dolma, Kollegal RTWA President Tashi Yangzom and others took part in the demonstration.

Tibet Day exhibition at Mysore University

As part of the 60th commemoration of Tibetan National Uprising Day and also 60 years since His Holiness the Dalai Lama came into exile, the Mysore Tibetan Students Association held a mega Tibet Day Exhibition at University of Mysore where thousands of students and people were explained about various topics on Tibet like Environmental Issue, Human Rights violation in Tibet, Dalai Lama etc. Tibetans became political refugees in 1959 when the Chinese planned to kidnap the Dalai Lama for which Tibetans from all walks of life came together to provide human shield to Norbulingkha where Dalai Lama lived by risking their lives to protect him and were successful.

The Dalai Lama and about 80,000 Tibetans crossed the mighty Himalayas to seek political asylum in India, Nepal and Bhutan and Mar. 10 not only signifies a day of mourning and commemorating those brave hearts who have died for Tibet, but also a day to celebrate the indomitable spirit of Tibetans in prevailing against all odds from one of the most brutal modern day governments.

At Bylakuppe: The 60th National Uprising Day was also observed at the Dalai Lama Old Palace in Bylakuppe. President of Indo-Tibetan Friendship Society B.V. Javaregowda, who was the chief guest, said that the Chinese Government being the Security Council Member of the United Nations should uphold the Democratic values and human rights for the Tibetans in order to celebrate their National Independence Day in Tibet.

When all the countries are celebrating the National Days in their respective countries, why not the Tibetans be allowed to do so? he questioned.

He said that all major countries have recognised the role played by His Holiness Dalai Lama by supporting his non-violent movement in getting freedom to Tibet. He appreciated the Tibetans who are spread over 40 countries for maintaining their culture, religion and language and hoped that good time would come to them to enjoy their freedom by getting back to their home country.

On the occasion the Statement issued by the Tibetan Parliament in exile and Central Tibetan Administration was read by Lobsang, MP and Choezom, Administrative Officer of TDL, Bylakuppe.

Save Ballahalli land movement

Farmers to stage protest in front of MUDA Office on Mar. 19

Mysuru, Mar. 14 (RKB&DM)- Accusing the State Government of acquiring fertile land belonging to poor farmers at Ballahalli, farmers under the banner of Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS) will stage a demonstration in front of MUDA Office here on Mar. 19.

This decision was taken at a meeting of farmers at Manuvana Park opposite the City Law Courts Complex here on Tuesday.

Farmer leaders, who addressed the gathering, alleged that the Government was forcibly acquiring fertile land at Ballahalli after making amendments to Land Acquisition Act. Strongly condemning the Government's move, the leaders said that they would not allow the Government to acquire Ballahalli land and they would launch a movement against acquisition. As a first step towards launching the movement, a massive procession will be taken out in the city after which a demonstration will be staged in front of MUDA Office on JLB Road at 11 am on Mar. 19.

The farmers will converge in the city along with their cattle for staging the demonstration. The procession will be taken out from Mahatma Gandhi bust opposite the City Law Courts Complex to the MUDA Office.

The leaders also announced that 16 branches of KRRS will be set up across the taluk in the coming days.

KRRS leaders Guruprasad, Honnur Prakash, Madralli Mahadevappa, Manjesh Gowda, Sannegowda, Ballahalli Mahadevu, Puttanna, Ramegowda, Gowhalli Nagesh, Kumarabeedu Basavaraj and others attended.

'Ambedkar played crucial role in two Dalit Movements'

Mysuru, Mar.14 (PM&DM)- "Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, apart from being the Father of the Indian Constitution, played a crucial role in two Dalit Movements aimed at liberating Dalits from the clutches of untouchability," said Manorakhitha Bhanteji of Jetavana Buddha Vihar, Kollegal.

He was speaking after inaugurating Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Samsmarane (Commemoration) programme organised by Maharaja's College Extracurricular Activities Committee at the College Centenary Hall here yesterday.

Pointing out that Dr. Ambedkar spearheaded Lake Water Consumption Movement in Maharashtra and Dalit entry to Kalaram Temple, Bhantheji said that Dr. Ambedkar always thought of uplifting the Dalits and other oppressed sections of society.

Prof. D. Anand, Dean, Department of Studies in Commerce, University of Mysore, who delivered a lecture, said that Ambedkar dedicated his entire life for the cause of lower strata of society.

He further said that there was never a black spot in the 35-year public life of Dr. Ambedkar.

On the occasion, the winners of an essay contest on the topic "The contribution of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar in building an Equal Society" and students who scored the highest marks in BA final (2017-18) in Public Administration and Political Science were distributed prizes. College Principal Prof. C.P. Sunitha, Administrative Officer Prof. Anita Vimla Braggs, faculty Dr. T.K. Kempegowda and others were present.

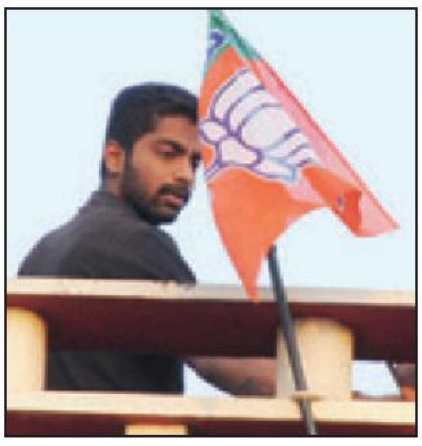
BJP workers engage in wordy duel with authorities over removal of party flags



Mysuru, Mar.14 (SPN&DM)- Even as the District Administration has began strict enforcement of Model Code of Conduct after the Election Commission of India (ECI) announced the Lok Sabha polls schedule on Sunday evening, BJP workers engaged in a wordy duel with the Police and Poll authorities over removal of party flags tied to houses of party supporters across the city on Tuesday. The duel sparked off when Poll authorities went to the house of BJP activist Prabhuswamy on Thyagaraja Road in Agrahara for removing the party flag tied atop the house.

Questioning the action of the poll authorities, Prabhuswamy maintained that he himself would have volunteered to remove the flag if the EC had banned display of party flags atop private houses and buildings. Again questioning the authorities for their action of removing the flag without giving prior notice, Prabhuswamy warned of staging a protest if the authorities removed the flag.

K.R. Police, who rushed to the spot on receiving information, brought the situation under control.

Despite requests from the Poll authorities, Prabhuswamy refused to budge from his stand, insisting that he be served a notice first. Later, the authorities left the spot and went ahead with their drive, it is learnt.

Meanwhile, K.R. Constituency Sectoral Officer Venkatesh said that following directions from the EC, the Poll authorities have launched the drive to remove party flags, banner, buntings etc., belonging to political parties at houses, buildings, public spaces etc., in a legal manner and there is nothing wrong about it.

'Allow to fly party flag atop houses of party activists'

Mysuru, Mar.14 (RK&SR)- Following the notice issued by District Returning Officer urging all political parties to remove party flags flying atop houses of their party activists in the wake of poll code, Member of Parliament (MP) Pratap Simha met Deputy Commissioner (DC) Abhiram G. Sankar at his office yesterday and submitted a memorandum urging him to relax such rules as the party had obtained No Objection Certificate (NOC) from Court to fly the party flags.

The MP met the DC along with other BJP leaders and appealed him to give permission to allow the party activists to hoist the party flags atop the houses.

He also attached the photo copy of the Court's order along with the memorandum.

Replying after receiving the appeal, the DC said that as per the guidelines of Election Commission of India (ECI), political parties and candidates must never permit their followers to use any person's land, wall, or building without their permission for erecting flagstaffs, tying banners, writing slogans or pasting notices. Notices were issued to remove the party flags following the directions from ECI, he added.

However, the DC said that he would verify this appeal and once again clarify from ECI in this regard.

WORD OF THE DAY

Feisty

Pronunciation: FYE-stee

Meaning: Typically one who is relatively small, lively, determined and courageous.

Origin: In certain parts of the United States, most notably the South, the noun feist (pronounced to rhyme with heist) refers to a small dog used in hunting small game animals (such as squirrels). Also spelled fice or fyce, it comes from an obsolete term, "fisting hound," that derived from another obsolete term, fist, verb that once meant "to break wind." The term feisty has come a long way from its flatulent origin, but its small-dog association still seems relevant: the term conveys the spunk and determination that one may associate with a dog that manages to make its presence known (either through its bark or its bite) despite its small size.

Example: "She's feisty. She's bawdy. She's bodacious.... She's a bit of a wild child." — Vicki Lawrence quoted in The New York Magazine, 5 Oct. 2018.

"The rise of satellite and cable technology in the nineties created new possibilities for nationally syndicated programs built around feisty, voice-driven pundits." — Hua Hsu, The New Yorker, 24 Sept. 2018.

THE ODD WORD

Flatline

To die

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The darkest hour is just before the dawn

Meaning: There is hope, even in the worst of circumstances or when things seem to be at their worst they are about to start improving.

Origin: This is one of those improving proverbs that are the stock in trade of the contemporary glut of self-help manuals and talking therapies. The darkest hour has long been used figuratively to mean 'the lowest ebb' and there are many such examples of it in print dating from the late 1700s. The English theologian and historian Thomas Fuller appears to be the first person to commit the notion that 'the darkest hour is just before the dawn' to print in his religious travelogue A Pisgah-Sight of Palestine and the Confines Thereof, 1650. The source of the proverb isn't known. It may be Fuller himself, or he may have been recording a piece of folk wisdom. In 1858, much later than Fuller of course, Samuel Lover attributed the notion to the Irish, in Songs and Ballads.

QUOTE BOX

Each day, I come in with a positive attitude, trying to get better.
